

ALEXANDRIA, VA.
SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1872

President Grant remains at his cottage at Long Branch, and is receiving visitors daily from all parts of the country, who bring "congratulatory reports" of the progress of the campaign. He was recently interviewed by the correspondent of the New York Herald, who reports that the President is entirely sanguine as to his re-election; that he wishes to visit the country bordering on Canada shortly; that he thinks the British treaty business, so far, should be considered as satisfactory, &c., &c. He is evidently kept by his informers in the full persuasion that he is in no danger of a defeat. The result of the election may tell a very different story.

Mr. John T. Pickett, the party who delivered the archives of the State Department of the late Confederate States Government to the agents of the United States Government, has written a long letter to the Washington Patriot in explanation of the transaction. It appears that the papers were all taken to Canada; that Pickett made several attempts to sell them but could not get his price; but that finally they were given up to the government. He states that the documents consist of the entire archives of the Confederate State Department. He intimates that these "archives" have very little political significance, but are historically and financially valuable.

A letter from Richmond published in some of the newspapers says that one portion of the programme of the Radicals, and their new allies adopted at a late conference is "that Virginia Republicans shall control the party in the State as far as practicable, and that they shall be preferred hereafter in the distribution of federal patronage in Virginia, if being alleged that Republicans from abroad have too much power and favor here to the damage of the Republican cause in the State." An intimation to this effect was given in an article, apparently "authorized," which we recently copied from the Washington Chronicle.

Advices received in Washington allege that the Emperor of Germany will not render his decision as arbitrator, under the treaty of Washington, in the matter of the Northwestern or San Juan boundary dispute between Great Britain and the United States before September. The American Minister at Berlin states that this government has submitted by far the strongest documentary evidence, and believes that the decision will be in favor of the United States.

We think, from what we see in the newspapers, that some of the Democrats who rather held back from the support of Mr. Greeley, until he was nominated by the Baltimore Convention, from scruples which they, no doubt, honestly entertained, are likely to be among the most earnest and efficient advocates of Mr. Greeley, in the pending contest; and to go into it, with a zeal not behind that of any of those who did not hesitate at all.

It is said that Admiral Palo, the Spanish minister, has reached Washington from Newport, for the purpose, it is hinted, of asking this government to take some steps for the punishment of the known leaders of the Cuban filibusters for a violation of the neutrality laws. These persons, it is alleged, fail in their schemes, and then, like Ryan, return at once to the protection of the U. S. government.

Many petitions having been presented to the Episcopal Houses of Convocation, sitting in London, as to the Athanasian creed, the whole matter has been referred to a committee of the two Houses, which is to "consider and report to the next meeting as to relieving the scruples held by many members of the Church as to the use of the creed in the public services, while maintaining the truth committed to our charge." Several of the Bishops, among them being Dr. Temple, urged immediate action.

W. H. G. West, of the U. S. N., a native of Philadelphia, and on duty at the Naval Academy, was drowned while bathing at Cape May, yesterday. The Congress Hall life boat was taking a party out to a fishing schooner at the time, and hundreds saw him go down, but the undertow was so great that he could not be saved. His body was recovered a half hour afterwards.

The news of the attempted assassination of King Amadeus and wife, created intense excitement among the Spanish residents in New York. It is said that the leading Spaniards will hold a meeting with a view to adopt an address congratulating the King and Queen upon their escape, and denouncing the authors of the attack.

The Manassas correspondent of the Virginia Star, says that James F. Clark, recent editor of the Manassas Gazette, has gone South on a prospecting tour, and that Mr. D. W. Whiting, editor and proprietor of the Fairfax News has resumed the editorial chair of the Gazette. Mr. W. was the original founder of the Gazette.

The act recently passed by the Legislature of the District of Columbia, enforcing "civil rights" in all restaurants, barber shops, &c., goes into effect to-day. A failure to comply with the provisions of the law is punishable by fine and forfeiture of license.

There are at present nineteen prisoners confined in the Tombs prison, New York, charged with murder, and only two of them have undergone a trial, and one is under sentence of death in fact he has been twice sentenced. This is James Foster, of ear-hook notoriety.

Small pox has almost entirely disappeared from New York, and has much declined in all the other cities where it has lately prevailed.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Yesterday a fatal accident occurred on the South-side railroad. A young man by the name of N. L. Boyd, in attempting to pass from one car to another while the train was running at full speed, fell down between the cars and was run over. He survived only about half an hour. The deceased had been in attendance at a public meeting, and was returning to his home in Nelson county.

The Charlottesville Chronicle says:—"Messrs. Wood & Massie have sold Judge Rives' Boiling Spring farm, near Warren, in Albemarle county, for $25,000, to a party of English gentlemen. These parties have also purchased for the same price an adjoining estate from John S. Coles."

The Norfolk Journal of yesterday quotes potatoes at 25.50c. per barrel; apples $1.25 per barrel; peaches 50c. a bushel; and water-melons $10.45 per hundred.

The Supervisors of Halifax county have appropriated the sum of $150 to procure a portrait of the late Judge William Leigh, which is to be placed in the court-room of the county.

Conservative Meeting in Warren Co.—At a meeting of the Conservative party, held in Front Royal, on Monday, the 15th instant, Jno. T. Lovell, esq., was called to the chair and R. B. Bayly, esq., requested to act as secretary.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting to be to appoint delegates to represent our county in the Congressional Convention to be held in Alexandria on the 15th day of August. A committee, consisting of two from each township, was appointed to select delegates.

Committee reported the following named gentlemen: Front Royal Township—John T. Lovell, R. B. Bayly, alternate; S. S. Turner, Cedarville—S. W. Thomas, Bushrod Rust, Capt. A. M. Earle, T. B. Massie, alternates; W. Melton, Philip Swamp, Potomac—J. B. Richards, Col. L. N. King, alternates; M. C. Richards, South River—R. A. Fingell, John W. Marlow, alternates; James W. Boyd.

A resolution, introduced by Gies Cook, jr., that any member of the Conservative party present at the convention should cast the vote of the county in event that none of the delegates appointed should be present, was carried.

There being present several candidates for Congressional honors, loud cries were made and answered by Dr. J. C. Hill, of Alexandria, who opened his speech by stating that he was a "last ditch" Democrat, and that his remarks would be addressed principally to that class. His remarks were well-timed and favorably received. Mr. H. was followed by Mr. Cloughlin, one of Alexandria's gifted sons, with a most eloquent address. Mr. C. is an orator of the first water, and his address was received with an applause which many marks of pleasure.

Mr. Moore, from Clarke, was then loudly called for and responded in a speech powerful and telling in its effect. The audience, although having listened to all the candidates present, could not disperse until they had heard from Mr. U. L. Boyce, of Clarke. His was a characteristic speech, full of wit and humor, not without depth and earnestness, and Greeley to the "backbone."

On motion, the secretary was requested to have the proceedings published in the Warren County Sentinel, with the request that all the papers in the district, friendly to the cause, copy the same.

On motion the meeting adjourned. JOHN T. LOVELL, Chairman. R. B. BAYLY, Secretary.

REVELATIONS OF FISK—"Meadow" draws the following picture of the profligacy of Fisk, Jr., in the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle:—"Many things are now brought out concerning Fisk which may surprise his admirers. One is the fact that at the time of his death he was running down in business habits, and that had he lived he would soon have been ousted from his well-furnished nest. Fisk was not a first class business man. His friends claimed this distinction for him as a compensation for his bad habits, but is now evident that he was vastly overrated. It may, then, be inquired how he could have obtained so important a position. The reply is that he got into the confidence of Daniel Drew, who had an extensive influence in the Erie Road, and desired Fisk to be placed in a position which he improved to commit the most reckless robbery. It is now said that Drew became disgusted with Fisk's management, and had for three months planned his removal, but was anticipated by the assassin. Fisk, at the time of his death, was utterly insolvent. He had wasted a large part of his wealth in dissipation of a costly character, and it is said Mrs. Manfield had a powerful rival whose establishment cost an enormous sum. It is supposed that Fisk spent from $3,000 to $4,000 per week. This rate is suggested by the fact that his pocket money found on his person, after his death, consisted of $15,000 bills. This was not business funds. Indeed, had it been such, it would have been deposited in bank. It was evidently his 'house money'—his money in the pocket, and it is probable that it would have been there before Monday. Fisk was overrated prodigiously because his bravado passed for courage and his impudence for enterprise."

FIGURES FROM THE NEW CENSUS—A table showing the area of the States and Territories of the United States, and the number of families and dwellings, giving the totals by States, has just been prepared at the Census office. Preceding the table in the report there will be a brief statement of all the transfers of territory that have been made from State to State, from Territories to States, by States to the general government, and to the United States from foreign governments. Only six of the thirteen original States, prior to 1781, had fixed boundaries. They were New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey. Some of the States claimed all the territory west of them to the Mississippi river and some to the Pacific Ocean. The total area of the United States and Territories is given as 3,603,444 square miles. The largest State, Texas, has an area of 274,356 square miles, with 92,810 persons to each. The smallest, Rhode Island, has 1,306 square miles, and 166,430 persons to each. Massachusetts has 186,840 persons to the square mile. Connecticut, 113,150-100, and New Jersey, 108,810-100. No others have over 100 and only five others above 50. In only two or three of the States the average number of persons to a square mile is 50, and in only two or three falls below 25. In two or three States the number of persons to a dwelling is a fraction over 6, only in Nevada does it fall below 4. Of the States only California, Nevada and Texas have an area of over 100,000 square miles.—N. Y. Times.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Marine Band, of this city, which attended the Boston Jubilee, after considerable talk, got a promise from Gilmore that he would pay them $50 each for their attendance. This promise was secured by the intervention of the Secretary of the Navy, who was at the jubilee, and now the members of the band are anxious to obtain the balance due them, and for that end have written to Boston.

An infant, eighteen months old, son of Wm. Parker, about daybreak yesterday, crawled from his bed to an open third-story window, and fell to the ground, where it was found by Mr. R. Reeves. It bears little outside marks of its fall, but is believed to be in danger from internal injuries.

RAILROAD CONNECTION SOUTH.—The first train from Weldon, N. C., to Baltimore without change, arrived here at 4 o'clock, a. m. yesterday, and left at 5, reaching Baltimore at 6:45. This train consisting of 4 coaches, 1 post-car and 2 baggage cars, left Richmond at 9:40 on Thursday evening. The train South left Baltimore at 9:20 p. m. last evening, arriving here at 11:05 and leaving at 11:20, reaching Richmond at 4:30. The train from Baltimore, leaving at 5:05 p. m., and arriving at 7, has been discontinued, and trains remain as formerly. This has been done under an arrangement with the Baltimore and Potomac and Alexandria and Fredericksburg Railroad Companies with the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac road for a through connection. The full complement of engines and cars have not been received by the company, and they therefore deem it impracticable to run additional trains.

The running of trains to accommodate the working classes of Washington, arriving say at 6:30 a. m. and leaving 6:30 p. m., will aid in building up the country along the road, as many mechanics will prefer to have their families away from town during the summer months. A portion of the mails of the South Atlantic States will hereafter come up by this route. Mr. A. S. Dorsey, the local agent, has made satisfactory arrangements with Mr. E. L. DuBarry, superintendent, for the transfer of the mails.—Washington Republican.

TRY WALNUT LEAVES.—The fly, insignificant as it is in size, and devoid of the power of doing any great harm, is one of the most annoying little pests of all the insect tribe. A nuisance to whom the fly is the terror of the house, whose flesh is made to quiver whenever the foot of humanity comes to the aid of the horse, powerful as he is against his humble assailant, the fly. Here is a recipe which is said to be an excellent defence against it. At all events, a trial of it will not involve much expense, nor will it do harm should it prove unavailing as a defence to the horse.

Take two or three small handfuls of walnut leaves, upon which pour two or three quarts of cold water, let it infuse one night, and pour the whole next morning into a kettle and let it boil for a quarter of an hour when cold it will be fit for use. No more is required than to moisten a sponge, and before the horse goes out of the stable let those parts which are the most irritable be smeared over with the liquor, viz. between and upon the ears, the neck, etc. Not only the lady or gentleman who drives out for pleasure will derive benefit from walnut leaves thus prepared, but the coachman, the wagoner and all others who use horses during the hot months.—Lynchburg News.

BRUTAL.—A shocking case, showing the most depraved side of human nature, was brought to the attention of the police officers this morning. It appears that two brothers, named Frenn, have had a quarrel for some time. They are both hucksters, and yesterday afternoon Joseph went to the stable of his brother, and taking out a large knife, attacked a valuable carriage horse, cutting the poor animal in the throat and inflicting a terrible wound. The gash was two inches in depth and ten in length. The injured beast groaned with pain, and the infuriated man then turned his attention to a valuable dog which was in the stable, and cut a gash about three inches long in its throat. Both of the animals will probably die. The matter was immediately brought to the attention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and a warrant for the arrest of the brutal man issued. When the officer attempted to make the arrest, Joseph drew a knife on him and inflicted several severe gashes across the back of the hand. He was finally arrested, after a severe struggle, and taken before Alderman Moore, who committed him for trial.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

DISPERATE STRIKE.—A most desperate case of suicide occurred in this city last evening. A young man named James Murphy, who resided with his brother, on Cary street, drank two and a half ounces of laudanum in a soda cocktail. As soon as the rash deed came to the knowledge of his relatives, Drs. Beal and Ross were hurriedly summoned, and applied all their skill to remove the poison from the stomach. A large quantity of it was withdrawn by means of the stomach pump, and every known means resorted to in order to enable the system to resist the influence of the deadly drug. The young man was subjected to the severest exercise and his back was lashed fearfully, and salt applied to the wounds produced, in order to create the desired reaction. But all the efforts of the medical attendants and friends proved abortive, and the young man died about one o'clock this morning. We have no authoritative statement of the cause which led to the rash deed, but it is hinted by his young companions that his death was the sad termination of a love affair.—Richmond State Journal.

A REMARKABLE WELL.—Persons travelling over the York River road have doubtless noticed a portable saw-mill immediately to the left of the Panamint, on the King William side, opposite the White House. It became known to the public, and to supply the engine with water, and after digging about forty-five feet below the surface without finding water, a trench was dug from the river and the well was filled in that way. At the depth of forty feet a large number of bones, oyster shells of immense size, and a petrified bird were found. A box was also found about thirty-five feet below the surface made of plank and the pieces joined with pegs instead of nails. Who made the box, and how did it get there? It crumbled to pieces after being exposed to the air a short time. At high tide the water is within four feet of the well. You can dip water from the other wells in the neighborhood (Indian town) with a cup, yet there is no water there, forty-five feet below the surface. In building the railroad bridge fifteen feet of earth were taken from the spot, making the depth of the well about sixty feet below the natural surface.—West Point Star.

BRANDS AND "SWITCHES."—Some time since when it was announced that the story that June bugs were merely an invention of the enemy, the women built higher and stronger. But now a distinguished chemist who has been investigating the matter says that although it is true there are no parasites in June, still it is sure to destroy the human scalp if allowed to remain in contact with it. He says that in the preparation of June ointment, a most deadly mercurial poison and nicotine, the essential principle of tobacco, are used, and that the June bug, becoming brittle like spun glass, breaks into small particles which enter the pores of the scalp, and introducing the poison, causes first a slight irritation, and afterwards serious ulceration. Similar, though less marked, effects follow the wearing of other substitutes for the natural covering for the head, so that evil results follow in any case. These facts are not stated in the expectation that they will make the last difference in the sale or use of the article.

A Street Railway and a Park! Well, won't we be fixed. Gentlemen, there is nothing like energy and improvement if we want to make Alexandria what she ought to be—therefore push these two good and beneficial works and others will follow in their train.

I hope that steps will be at once taken to secure the ground for the Park. Now is the time. Everybody wants a Park.

THE ADAMS FAMILY.—The Adams family of Massachusetts is probably the most remarkable in this country for unbroken descent of ability. The other leading statesmen of revolutionary fame, and those who succeeded them upon the stage of public affairs, have left none to inherit their greatness. But John Adams, the first President of that name, had a son, John Quincy Adams, who became President, like himself, and like the younger Pitt, were well the mantle of his father. But, more famed than the Pitts, the second Adams had a son, Charles Francis, who has conducted diplomacy of the country at the Court of St. James with signal ability, and whose nomination was prominently spoken of in connection with the late liberal republican nomination for the presidency. This man, in his turn, has a son, John Quincy, who is thought by many to be superior in ability to his father, and who has had the pluck and independence twice to lead the democratic forlorn hope in Massachusetts. As if the Adams family was destined to be the inexhaustible producers of statesmen, there is yet another grandson, who bears the name of Adams, and who made an oration on the 4th of July last in Boston, and giving past all of rhetoric and sensational allusions of the day, discussed the labor question, the gravest and most pressing question of our times, and is said to have shown a breadth of comprehension and practicalness in its treatment which would have done honor to the most illustrious member of the family.—Baltimore Sun.

HIGH HEELED BOOTS FOR LADIES.—The Boston Journal of Chemistry thus discusses one of the fashions of the day:—"We have before commented upon the absurd fashion of high heels for ladies' foot gear, and we see that the mischievous device is attracting the attention of medical men in England. A London surgeon, Mr. P. Hewlett, reports several cases of serious fractures of limbs indirectly caused by these heels, which had tripped up their wearers; and he refers also to the distortion and injury to the foot that they often induce."

COMMERCIAL.—ALEXANDRIA MARKET, July 19.—Wheat is in better receipt, and the market is active at yesterday's quotations; offerings of 224 bushels white and 612 of red, with sales of the former at 170 for prime and 175 for choice, and of the latter at 145 for ordinary, 164 and 165 for good, and 170 for prime. Corn is in light receipt, and the market is dull; sales of 50 bushels white at 81, and of 180 of mixed, with no sales reported. No offerings of Rye or Oats.
